The candidate

Our ideal candidate has previous experience in a hospitality environment with a keen interest in customer service focussed roles. You should be confident to work alongside a small team, knowing that you are making a difference. We would like you to have good organisational skills, time management and happily work a range of tasks whilst in the restaurant: including high quality drinks preparation, answering questions about the menu, processing food and drinks orders using our epos system, carrying food and drinks to the table and preparing and processing bills.

It is a fast past environment to work in, and there will be long days, but this is an exciting and fun job role. So if you think this is for you please apply!
